Dear
Editor-in-Chief. Health Science Journal of Indonesia

I would like to submit the manuscript entitled “Overexpression of miR-155 and Increased Number of Macrophage Population in Precancerous Prostatic Disease” to be considered for publication as an original article in Health Science Journal of Indonesia. In this research, we investigate the alteration of microRNA (miR) expression and macrophage population in precancerous prostatic disease.

Chronic inflammation in prostate related to benign prostate hyperplasia and may play a role in carcinogenesis by cellular and genomic changes. High-Grade Prostatic Intraepithelial Neoplasia is a precancerous disease with the possibility 33.3% become cancer. The macrophage is a cell related inflammatory process that influenced by cytokines released by cells. miR-155 through SOCS-1 mRNA can induce macrophage polarization. In this research, we correlate the expression of miR-155, SOCS-1, and macrophage population in formalin-fixed paraffin-embedded (FFPE) samples of Benign Prostate Hyperplasia (BPH), High-Grade Prostatic Intraepithelial Neoplasia (HGPIN), and Prostate Adenocarcinoma (PRAD).

This manuscript is original and has not been published elsewhere. This work has been approved by all contributing authors. We have no conflict of interest associated with this publication. We appreciate the opportunity to submit our manuscript and hope that your reviews find our study relevant. We believe this finding will be of interest to the reader of your journal.

Thank you for your kind attention and if you have any question please contact me at the address listed below

Sincerely Yours,
