ABSTRACT

This research aims to 1) define the washfī phrase in the translated Arabic novel of Girls of Riyadh by Marilyn Booth, 2) describe the technique, method, and quality of translation, 3) to define the ideology of washfī phrase. This research used the descriptive qualitative method. The respondents evaluated the accuracy, acceptability, and readability of the translation result. This research data resourced with formal and material objects. The material object consists of two Arabic and English version novels. The formal object consists of the washfī phrase of both the novels at once questionnaire. The result of this research there are two kinds of techniques, they are: 1) single variant technique, 2) couplet variant technique. They are 11 techniques: 1) literal 3, 2) established equivalent 3, 3) reduction 1, 4) deletion 3, 5) borrowing 1, 6) generalization 1, 7) particularization 2, 8) variation 4, 9) adaptation 1, 10) addition 1, 11) discursive creation 2, 12) linguistic compression 1, 13) modulation 2. Couplet variant techniques are: 1) deletion+literal 1, 2) modulation+addition 1, 3) modulation+literal 1, 4) particularization + borrowing 1, 5) linguistic compression + particularization 2. This washfī phrase translation has high accuracy levels score 3, high acceptability 2, and low legibility levels 1.

Keyword: washfī phrase, translation technique, quality of translation

A. INTRODUCTION

Girls of Riyad novel of Marilyn Booth is an English version of the Arabic novel; the novelis Banāt al-Riyādh of Rajaa Abdullah Alसानea. It told stories of hedon's life, liberals in Saudi. So that's a controversy among conservative Saudi society. But, liberals to make role models on that. The novel has a distinctive value to the reader representative description that is comprehensive about hedon's life and liberals.

The translator needs a master of source language so that no deviations occurred understanding against mastering target language¹. This research focuses on translating the quality washfī phrase in the novel as a divider of the problem. A translation is a tool of interlingual verbal communication that used the difference of bilingualism through ideology to involve both languages.²

The ideology depends on technic and translation methods that applied in translation activity that will affect accuracy, acceptability, and readability aspect. Here are portions of examples in the novel studied like the example below:

¹Havid Ardi, "Analisis Teknik Penerjemahan dan Kualitas Terjemahan Buku "Asal-Usul Elite Minangkabau Modern: Respons Terhadap Kolonial Belanda Abad ke XIX/XX" (Universitas Sebelas Maret, 2010).

أَوْ أَنْ تَدُوسَ هِيَ الطَّرْفُ الْأَمَامِي الطَّوِيلُ فَتَقَعُ عَلَى وَجْهِهَا كَمَا يَحْدُثُ
 فِي الْأَفْلَامِ الْكُومِيْدِيَّةِ³ (p.3)

Or that she wouldn't trip over the floor-length hem of her dress and fall flat on her face like in a comedy show. (p.4-5)⁴

الأفلام الكوميديّة a translator used particularization technique in which the translator chose the word show so that the translation of الأفلام is not the film because the translator considered to a precision aspect. Although this translation has been useful in the translation must be to fill three-elements are accuracy, acceptability, and readability. The technic used disposed to target language. So, the method's is disposed on adaptation problem or target language emphasis. So that, the ideology is disposed to domestication ideology.

Based on the background, the researcher will evaluate the translation of the novel Banāt al-Riyādh by focusing on the accuracy, acceptability, and legibility aspect.^{5,6}

B. RESULT AND DISCUSSION

1. The Result of Research

a. Data Description Based on Translation Techniques

The analysis below of techniques washfī phrase in the novel Banāt al-Riyādh included the English version.

Table 1.1 Data 1
