ABSTRACT

EXAMINING THREE REPUTABLE ONLINE NEWS MEDIA ON INDONESIAN SPYWARE NEWS: A CORPUS-BASED CRITICAL DISCOURSE ANALYSIS

By

Safina Rosita Indrawati (2000026079)

This research discusses how critical discourse analysis is used to examine three similar news stories, namely Indonesian spyware, but from different media and countries. The researcher used three media, namely The Jakarta Post, Aljazeera, and The Times of Israel. This research aims to find out textual features, discourse practice, and sociocultural practice based on Norman Fairclough's concept.

This research is descriptive qualitative research. In data consisting of words, phrases, clauses, and sentences in The Jakarta Post, Aljazeera, and The Times of Israel, the researcher uses Sudaryanto's method and techniques. The steps of collecting data are, visiting the official news website, Selecting the news text, reading the news text, classifying the data, arranging the data including words, phrases, clauses, and sentences into the table in order. The collected data, then, are classified based on the three-dimensional concept of Fairclough. To analyze the data, the researcher uses Norman Fairclough's theoretical approach with the help of Corpus-based AntConc 4.1.4.0 software to make it easier for the researcher to search for concordance and collocation data.

The results depict that the data in the three media can be understood from Fairclough's three-dimensional concept; textual features, discourse practice, and sociocultural practice. In the textual features, there are vocabularies consisting of rewording and overwording (43 data) and grammatical aspects (135 data) containing active, positive, negative, declarative, simple, compound, and complex sentences and pronouns, and data related to representation, relations, and identity (87 data). Discourse practice was found in text production, distribution, and consumption. The amount of data founding text production, distribution, and consumption was 3 data. Sociocultural practice was found to be the result of social determinants, ideology, and effects. The amount of data found was 65 data. The ideology found in the three news is the ideology of nationalism. The Times of Israel shows that the Israel wants to be considered a country and needs support from other countries. Meanwhile, The Jakarta Post and Aljazeera show the ideology that every country has the right to defend or not defend other countries. Israel's aim in attacking Indonesian officials was to gather information related to policies in Indonesia.

KAJIAN TIGA MEDIA DARING BEREPUTASI DALAM BERITA MATA-MATA INDONEISA: CORPUS BERDASARKAN ANALISIS WACANA KRITIS

Oleh

Safina Rosita Indrawati (2000026079)

Penelitian ini membahas bagaimana analisis wacana kritis digunakan untuk mengkaji tiga berita serupa, yaitu mata-mata Indonesia. Namun, dari media dan negara berbeda. Peneliti menggunakan tiga media, yaitu The Jakarta Post, Aljazeera, dan The Times of Israel. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mengetahui analisis textual, praktik wacana, dan praktik sosiokultural berdasarkan konsep Norman Fairclough.

Penelitian ini merupakan penelitian deskriptif kualitatif. Dalam data terdiri dari kata, frasa, klausa, dan kalimat di The Jakarta Post, Aljazeera, dan The Times of Israel, peneliti menggunakan metode dan teknik Sudaryanto. Langkah-langkah mengumpulkan data, yaitu mengunjungi laman media, memilih berita, membaca berita terpilih, mengklasifikasikan data, dan menyusun data menjadi kata, frase, clausa, dan kalimat dalam tabel. Data yang terkumpul kemudian diklasifikasikan berdasarkan konsep tiga dimensi Fairclough. Untuk menganalisis data, peneliti menggunakan teori pendekatan teori Norman Fairclough dengan bantuan software AntConc 4.1.4.0 berbasis Korpus untuk memudahkan peneliti dalam mencari data konkordansi dan kolokasi.

Hasilnya menggambarkan bahwa data pada ketiga media dapat dipahami dari konsep tiga dimensi Fairclough; fitur textual, praktik wacana, dan praktik sosiokultural. Pada analisis textual terdapat kosakata yang terdiri dari pengulangan kata (43 data) dan analisis gramatikal (135 data) yang berisi kalimat dan kata ganti aktif, positif, negatif, deklaratif, sederhana, majemuk, dan kompleks, serta data terkait representasi, hubungan, , dan identitas (87 data). Praktik wacana ditemukan dalam produksi, distribusi, dan konsumsi teks. Jumlah data teks dasar produksi, distribusi, dan konsumsi sebanyak 3 data. Praktik sosiokultural ditemukan sebagai hasil dari determinan sosial, ideologi, dan efek. Jumlah data yang ditemukan sebanyak 65 data. Ideologi yang ditemukan dalam ketiga berita, yaitu ideologi nasionalism. The Times of Israel menunjukkan bahwa Israel ingin dianggap sebagai sebuah negara dan membutuhkan dukungan dari negara lain. Sedangkan The Jakarta Post dan Aljazeera menunjukkan ideologi bahwa setiap negara memiliki hak untuk membela atau tidak terhadap negara lain. Tujuan Israel menyerang pejabat Indonesia adalah untuk mengumpulkan informasi terkait kebijakan di Indonesia.
