Dear Dr Fadillah,

I am writing to inform you that we have received the reports from our advisors on your manuscript, "Developing Public Relations as a foundation for Public Trust: A systematic literature review and bibliometric analysis", which you submitted to SN Social Sciences.

The review process was overseen by an associate editor and independent reviewers.

The editor has requested 'minor revisions', the full details of which are outlined at the bottom of this letter. You are also kindly requested also to check the website for possible reviewer attachment(s), if applicable.

We invite you to evaluate the comments carefully and if you feel you can address the issues identified, we would welcome a revision. A revision would be sent out again for review, but I cannot guarantee it will be accepted for publication.

A judgement on suitability for publication would be based on whether the editor and reviewers conclude their initial comments have been addressed satisfactorily, and to what degree they feel your paper meets the journal's criteria for acceptance.

If you would like to revise your paper, we suggest a resubmission deadline of 29 Nov 2023, although you would, of course, be welcome to resubmit sooner. If you require longer, however, please let us know so we can update your manuscript record on our submission system.

When submitting your revised manuscript online, please include the following:

- A rebuttal letter with a point-by-point response to each of the editor's and reviewers' comments and a clear description of any changes made in the revised paper. If you have not made changes in response to any of the feedback, please provide full reasoning.

- A marked-up version of the revised manuscript with the changes highlighted in colour in an editable format (e.g. not PDF). Please do not include track changes or comment boxes.

Please upload your files here:

Dear Author,

We are pleased to inform you that your paper is nearing publication. You can help us facilitate quick and accurate publication by using our e-Proofing system. The system will show you an HTML version of the article that you can correct online. In addition, you can view/download a PDF version for your reference.

As you are reviewing the proofs, please keep in mind the following:

- This is the only set of proofs you will see prior to publication.
- Only errors introduced during production process or that directly compromise the scientific integrity of the paper may be corrected.
- Any changes that contradict journal style will not be made.
- Any changes to scientific content (including figures) will require editorial review and approval.

Please check the author/editor names very carefully to ensure correct spelling, correct sequence of given and family names and that the given and family names have been correctly designated (NB the family name is highlighted in blue).

Please submit your corrections within 2 working days and make sure you fill out your response to any AUTHOR QUERIES raised during typesetting. Without your response to these queries, we will not be able to continue with the processing of your article for Online Publication.
